

Non-Profit Services

EXPERTISE

Harper & Pearson Company, P.C. recognizes that the accounting and reporting guidelines for tax-exempt organizations, governmental agencies, and private foundations are different than for-profit businesses. That's why the professionals that serve our non-profit clients are experienced and knowledgeable in the unique aspects of management, accounting and financial reporting of non-profit and governmental entities. By obtaining additional continuing education and staying aware of ever-changing industry regulations, our team is committed to helping clients with timely and responsive accounting solutions.

We have an established reputation for providing cost-effective audit, tax and consulting services to non-profit and governmental organizations. Through our understanding of the operating environment and budgetary systems under which such organizations must operate, we bring great value to the non-profit clients we serve. Our accessibility and responsiveness gives our clients peace of mind; while our dedication, experience and collective knowledge allows us to provide high-quality services to each non-profit and governmental organization we serve.
